

CORONA, AN INVISIBLE ISSUE

The effect of Corona on human thought

Let's take a closer look at the corona, something not visible. Let's see from the point of view of the world of meaning whether it can lead our point of view in the other direction.

Now let's look at the story differently.

What are our thoughts?

Are our thoughts like Corona which is something invisible?

Let's make a bridge between the two views, that is, between what is not visible at all and what we are constantly thinking about.

Do you see projections in it?

Projection means taking our thoughts, feelings, and motivations out of us (Munn, 2012: 138).

That's exactly the lesson we want to learn these days. Let's see all the ways of treatment because the treatment is the kind of meaning we were looking for.

Holism and meditation

We have to look holistically. In that case, we can no longer judge. If we start meditating, lights will gradually come to us that will help us set aside the judgment.

For this reason, we insist on meditation and concentration, and the experience of light flow is derived from this. When the light begins to shine on the screen of the mind or the world of the mind, healing takes place, and this is the most important thing in healing the mind.

Although meditation may seem difficult and useless at first, we will be encouraged to finish it by starting it and seeing its positive effects on the mind and body (Hewitt, 2011: 31), we can start with two minutes a day. This short time will become a permanent habit over time (Ta'ali, 2014: 64).

The relationship between quarantine and thinking

It is an obvious fact that thoughts affect how we deal with life's issues and that we can live well and take appropriate action if necessary when we need to change our behavior by controlling the mind (Dobelli, 2013: 46). Thinking to find various solutions is one of the most important tasks of man in all periods of his/her life and is always one of the most difficult tasks. Thinking is so valuable that it is said that everyone's world is as wide as his/her thoughts (Butterworth and Thowitz, 2014: 91).

For many, the quarantine was not a contraction but an expansion.

It allowed us to understand the best of ourselves, think more, watch movies, and even play.

The issue of the game is very important. Many families started playing together in quarantine.

Let's not forget this love.

In its essence, this flow occurs in the doubt-free jump layers of healing the mind. We find that deep thinking in the corona makes a difference.

Quarantine profoundly affects the flow of thoughts. What is all the quarantine and talk about related concepts in virtual networks?

Human thoughts are changing.

The most important thing is what happens when thoughts are changing?

Healing the mind.

The modern and golden age

The modern age is an age that is heading towards the golden age. This golden age is and will be declining again, and this is the flow of the universe. Now, the modern or golden age is about to begin.

Let's think more deeply and make kindness the basis of our lives.

In short, if man's thoughts are negative, they will stop him/her forever or divert him/her from a path outside the creation (Quilliam, 1985: 64). If thoughts are positive, they will lead man to the home of goodness and success (ibid).

The restoration of human kindness and compassion

Despite its negative effects, Corona reminded us of one fact: the family is the focus of security and love.

Kindness is an important factor that can be used to treat any pain. According to experiences, kindness and love can create a sufficient relationship more than anger, resentment, and punishment (Vetoodi, 2012: 74). Kind people can play a constructive role in each other's lives and help each other with their kindness and affection (Naraghi, 2007: 81).

What great lesson have we learned from Corona?

Kindness

We know that the divine laws have a structure of contraction and expansion, that is, we are precisely exposed to this current to face our thoughts. Kindness and expanding it are the only things that can invalidate the corona spell. The expansion of kindness is important. It is not a superficial issue but an esoteric one.

Do you see deepening and deep thinking?

We are still carrying the Coronavirus and we are still looking superficially. We are still looking at future expenditures, and again we will forget that we are deprived of embracing each other.

We have not paid attention to this distance between people.

I can't even leave the house safely.

Do you see quarantine?

We have not yet realized that wealth is the sun.

Wealth is a tree under which we can rest.

If we become pure and can honestly look at the word corona, the word itself tells us what causes the actual healing.

The most important lesson that the virus teaches us is that you now see in virtual networks how many people have gone to the thought that they constantly want to learn from this subject. You have noticed that the messages that are constantly spreading on virtual networks are rooted in this thinking, as if after Corona people are thinking deeper. The world after Corona will be different and will bring with it a new logic.

A new spiritual path...

The deeper we think, the more evidence goes in this direction, and it is even historically true that this virus and this great event must have happened at this time. It is as if these words are talking to you in essence. After all, what if we still follow the pre-Corona rules, that is, stay with the same logic as before?

Do you know what logic means here?

We want to take a path that we cannot continue with that previous means. From then on, the means must be changed, that is, the logic of the rules must be changed. Life is exactly like that.

The new rules are based on kindness.

The relationship between Corona and human behavior

We can't meet now. Even if we do, there is a fear in our minds that we might get Corona.

This virus affects the reflection of our thoughts.

It is a reflection of all our false smiles and all the expressions I love you that have been the same hatred.

How much ransom did I pay to be accepted? The debate is about changing logic.

Let's think about it and about the fact that we have been talking about a change in our relationships for so long over the years. We are on the verge of change.

I am not talking about prophecy but about the change and entering the golden age.

This expansion will undoubtedly take place, and this is a real expansion.

The great lesson of this virus is the maturity of thoughts, and this is one of the great spiritual secrets. It encompasses the whole universe. It seems that the whole world should enter the modern age because it is not possible for only one land to enter the modern age.

Unity and Transformation

These days, we hear a lot from doctors without borders about how much information they give each other. This is the nature of kindness and the same spiritual view of the virus that is transforming the world.

This is called insight.

This is called patience.

That is, only one who has spiritual intelligence can understand it.

Yes, it is spiritual intelligence that causes this transformation.

Corona in itself has created a transformation.

We understand what transformation and unity mean.

Unity is what makes us achieve transformation.

Unity and transformation are the basis of divine knowledge, a knowledge that causes change and transformation in its essence and soul.
